Cook's Brand Copolymer Tray

features

Models: 630-400

The Cook's 6-Compartment Tray delivers a balance of durability, value, and smart design. With six dedicated sections, including one specifically for flatware, this tray improves organization and minimizes the hassle of loose utensils during transport. Crafted from stain-resistant copolymer plastic and reinforced with internal support channels, this tray is built to withstand the demands of high-volume foodservice. The textured surface reduces visible wear, helping maintain a clean appearance over time.
