CCI; Chemical Containers, Inc. “your premier specialist in liquid handling products” announces the opening of a new company store in the city of Arcadia, Florida; located at 440 North Brevard Avenue.

This location will enable CCI to service their customers on a direct basis with an extensive inventory of parts and products to support the Agriculture, Aquaculture and Fire Suppression Industries. And when you consider that our staff servicing this store has over 50 plus years of accumulated industry experience, we will without any doubt be able to offer our customers tremendous assistance in solving problems and saving money.

CCI’s Founder and President, John Motis expressed his excitement saying, “We will now have a much more direct way to provide the most effective and time sensitive method of servicing our customers and friends in this area. We are proud of our long term relationships we have developed with our customers and we consider it our honor to be an active partner in their business solutions. I would like to personally thank our longtime friends and associates Bryan Farms Supply and specifically the Bryan Brothers for their past years of service to CCI and the industry. Our decision to open our own store is a decision that fits our overall company goal of always striving to do whatever it takes to provide all our customers the most direct, positive contact and experience with our company.”
