Cook's Brand Dead Man Box

features

Models: JK100

Cook's DeadMan Box is made for facilities where sample meals must be saved in case of food borne illness. Simply pull the oldest tray from the bottom and place the new tray on top. Each tray will rotate out of the box every three days. With all welded aluminum construction, this box is engineered to provide years of trouble free service. Innovative side opening is designed for easier tray placement. The Dead Man Box will provide you the best way to organize meals in your freezer at the toughest facilities.
